THE MAINE JOURNAL OF EDUCATORS.
 (Journal published for the past two years by the Maine Journal of Education.)
 The appearance with the new year under the name of a new, in a new dress.

It is edited by practical educators, and devoted to the interests of teachers, and to the advancement of the science of teaching. Its chief note of improvement in our schools, and key-bits to be a good exponent of the increasing interest in education through the Pine Tree State. It has a good variety of articles, and the year's work is a digest of educational intelligence for State and country, etc., etc.

The following are the editors for the month: January, A. A. Stone; February, E. C. Smith; March, C. S. Sewall; April, Allen; May, G. C. Webber; June, Rounds; July, G. T. Fletcher; August, Gage; September, J. H. Hanson; October, Corresponding Member, T. Tash; December, Warren Johnson.

Published by B. Thurston, Portland, at one per year.

Varieties.

—A fashionable lady in New York, on going out for her peach-blossom promenade to the theatre for the first time on an evening party, chagrined to find about the body and legs the dress she had bought for the occasion, and the dressmaker's marks of a warm, perspiring and perspiring lady's hand! "I am in a wretched humor," she said, "such a one was never left her hair, rich dress. How can account it she could not tell; but it came out the elderly nurse in the house who had a daughter who had been married to a man who had privately borrowed the dress from the lady to wear, and returned it to the wardrobe. The lady could never wear the dress again, she took it to her grave."

—T. D. Forsyth, the East India company, reports that the region between Afghanistan and Tibet is rich and fertile enough to support a large army with ease. It is the only country in the world that can be passed when it concludes to invade India, the Englishmen believe is will do not be constant day. Mr. Forsyth has also discovered the north-east by an army with camels and horses—indeed, a railroad might be run along the coast. The reports of precipices 17,000 feet high, and of a mountain 20,000 feet high in the north-north-east corner of the island, call well shut out India from the affairs of Asia. Here is new light for the Eastern question.

The Richmond Enquirer says: "We have a suitable word to express the character of that party, whose ruling idea and indefinable purpose seem to be the placing of the intelligent—once we have got them out of the hands of the ignorant—between the ruler and the ruled, and the extinction of a grim and safe melody, or black rule, on the ruins of the Democracy of the olden time. To call this party the 'Melo-melancholics' if it were not invented wants a word more than it has. The inventor was a very sorry for its state of mind. 'Safe melancholonia' is a fearful idea to be felt with dread."

It is a pity that the learned Blanche Rees has become one of the most popular of Irish concert singers.

twinge of something like envy to read the following which we find in the San Jose Mercury: "Major John Cook brought us on Thursday: 'Major John Cook brought us on Thursday, giving day. Three boxes of luscious strawberries, and a large ham of choice ham of the variety known as the Jeany Lind ham, bear fruit on his beautiful grounds near the Clara, almost continually throughout the year.'"

The Mobile Tribune prints a letter from one of a colony who went to Brazil in 1901 and who gives a dismal account of the experience of the colonists. They were here to establish a colony, and coming home they found as they were alone.

—Queen Victoria, who draws much pleasure from her writing, furnishes the illustration to the new editions of her books. They are some of the most beautiful ever published.

—A Swedish composer named Hansson has just finished an opera called "Hjalmar and Ingeborg." It is in five acts, and the story is said to be marked by the "northern spirit."

—A boy of ten years, named Franz Lieke,

The baroness Julia Ehergeny, wife of a senator, is serving a life sentence at the Neudorf prison for the murder of the Countess of Risky, a dying of consumption. She has the influence of the crime, did not know that she admitted guilt on the trial to save her lover.

—A Joint "Committee on Earthquake" met at the Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco, Feb. 10, 1906. The members have been able to agree upon we do not know.

—Michel Chevalier and Henri Baudrain, the two eminent French political economists are at work on a book on the financial crisis of the United States.

—California highway robbers seem to fear Clifford for their model; they are deeply respectful to women. The last robbery was committed by a woman, and she left the jewelry and valuables from gentlemen while the lady passengers were unharmed. A similar account came to us recently from Australia.

fame. Some few weeks ago he was on the steamer Providence during a terrific storm. The steamer put back to Bristol. As soon as the vessel came to anchor, a number of friends that he had expected to board went down in five minutes, and that pending fatal disaster be thought of every man who had been on board.

"It was Jims Fiske over in his life. He was at a party," you must have thought might kick."

—One of the best presentation speeches made is the following, said to be addressed by one of the workmen in a railway engine works in London, on the occasion of the time-keeper's jubilee.

"Be'dad, boss, we trust the watch will be as good time for yees as yoes have kept for us this many year."

The San Francisco policemen tried to arrest a Chinaman. They found it necessary to leave him a moment, and so handcuffed him with his arms each side of a lamp-post. When they returned their prisoner was gone—he had climbed up the post and swung his arms about the top.

"The great ice-berg in the St. Croix river

—A boy on skates in Iowa recently skated a distance of ten miles in forty minutes.
